MASS. DEPT. OF PUBLIC WORKS

This is SAUGUS.

Originally the early colonial community of the Plymouth County, it was called "Hammer-smith." It was later changed to SAUGUS and became known as the birthplace of American ironmaking.

SAUGUS is a town with a fine heritage. Great quantities of jasper were mined by the Sachem Indians and traded to surrounding tribes for objects of a greater value. It was SAUGUS who supplied surrounding towns with fresh spring water. The Tudor family packed ice on Lily Pond in straw and shipped it to the West Indies as a new and different commodity.

Now, SAUGUS looks to the future; for as a town growing rapidly in both population and industry, it is becoming a major North Shore community.

SAUGUS PUBLIC SCHOOLS

SAUGUS, MASSACHUSETTS 01906

MAURICE F. SMITH, SUPERINTENDENT

ANNA V. JACOBS, ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT

To the Members of the Class of 1968:

The recent visit of two Russian teachers to the Public Schools of Saugus provided an opportunity for several educators in Saugus to share experiences with their counterparts from a foreign country. Although this visit was much too brief, it seems to me that those of us who had the opportunity to question these Russians and to listen to their comments on education and youth, in a sense, were having an opportunity to peer behind a curtain (supposedly made of iron) and were finally viewing a Russian as a human being. Even in such brief contact one was impressed, not by the differences in thinking between the Russian and American educators (although such differences were apparent), but by the similarities in common problems and experiences found to be occurring in the pedagogical life of both countries.

Political differences were forgotten, for the moment, at least, as both Russian and American teachers lost their personal identities and concentrated upon a common interest and concern—the education of youth!

Van Cliburn experienced this same phenomenon in music when he participated in the International Tchaikovsky Competition in Moscow. After this moving experience he wrote:

"There are no political barriers to music. The same blood running through Americans also runs through the Soviet people and compels us to enjoy the same art. What thrills me so much is the spirit of musical unity achieved at the Tchaikovsky Competition by the people of the World whose governments are at political loggerheads."

Whether the common interest be education, music, art, science, business or some other field of endeavor, if allowed to be freely expressed, this interest becomes the focal point and varying nationality becomes meaningless. From such experiences one learns to respect a person as an individual regardless of political or religious beliefs, race or color.

There will always be differences in political thinking among the various peoples of the world. If such differences are not to lead to violence and war, the people of the world must consciously strive to find these common focal points of interest and by pursuing them together learn to live with these differences.

It seems to me that the young people of today, with their honest approach to life, their respect for uniqueness, and their regard for the individual person are better equipped than previous generations to break down the artificial barriers of nationality, color or religious prejudice.

It is my sincere hope that the members of the Saugus High School Class of 1968, as they proceed to further schooling or to immediately face life's problems, will exemplify such an attitude and each person with whom they come in contact will be respected for his contribution in life as a person. In this way prejudice, fear, and misunderstanding of other peoples will become words without meaning and the world will be a better place in which to live.

Sincerely,

Maurice F. Smith

To the Members of the Class of 1968:

For you it is graduation time. Understandably, you are happy to have attained this goal, and you look forward to entering a more adult world.

Yet I realize that many of you face the future with considerable anxiety. You have some concern about what lies ahead for you personally, whether it be college in the fall or the employment for which you have been training. More than that, you are apprehensive about the grave domestic and international problems that beset our country.

One cannot blame you for having misgivings about the future. There is every indication that the coming decades will be strangely new, rapidly moving, revolutionary. It seems likely that mankind will find it necessary to meet one unpredictable challenge after another.

But in facing up to the smaller crises of high school, you have readied yourselves to meet the larger crises of another day.

Albert Einstein once said, "Education is that which remains after you have forgotten everything you learned at school." I am sure that this great genius was not down grading formal schooling. Rather he was calling attention to the truth that inert facts, pieces of information, that you have learned here will in time be forgotten, while the attitudes, aspirations, and ideals cultivated here will remain with you and grow, for better or worse, throughout your life.

I am confident that your studies at Saugus High School have prepared you for your careers in the immediate future, and I fervently hope and trust that "that which remains after you have forgotten everything learned at school" will fortify and equip you for living in the new, exciting, and fast-changing world of tomorrow.

My best wishes to each of you as you join the alumni of Saugus High School.

Most sincerely,

Ashton F. Davis

had a knowledge of the principles of the Christian religion which was very thorough. He was a man of great personal magnetism, and had a large number of friends among the people of Boston.

CLASS MOTTO: So little done, so much to do

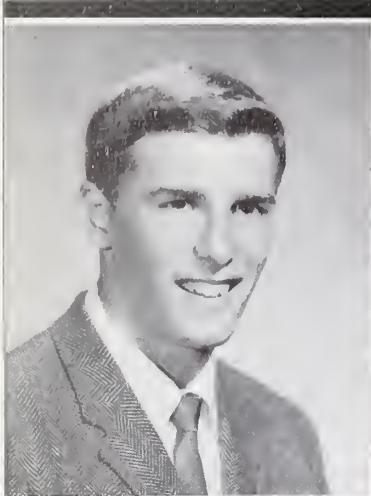

CLASS COLORS: Forest Green and Light Blue

ALMA MATER

O praises sing to red and white,
And let our banner fly,
For we are proud and we are true
As we hail Saugus High.
O marching ever onward,
We shall forever see
How great the lessons we have learned,
How firm and loyalty
That bids us to raise a cheer today
O Saugus High for thee!

Your walls are made of brick and stone
Perhaps, in time will fall,
But lasting friendships formed within
Shall tower over all,
Shall ever be a monument
To trust and brotherhood,
Shall stand forever for the right
Forever for the good.
And so we sing this song today
O Saugus High to thee!

*In Memoriam,
to a former classmate*

I fancied that I heard you say,
"Dear Lord, Thy will be done"—
For all the joy a child will bring,
The risk of grief will run—

We'll shelter her with tenderness,
And love her while we may,
And for the happiness we've known
Forever grateful stay—

And when the angels call for her,
Much sooner than we planned,
We'll brave the bitter grief that comes
And try to understand

Looking for Something?

your employer
as carefully

What's the Company like anyway? Would I be proud to work there? Reputation for square dealing with employees? Pleasant surroundings?

Will I be working with others my own age? Are they friendly? Do they socialize after hours?

Will the boss be reasonable? Appreciate good, hard work, but won't explode if I make a mistake?

Will I make a decent week's pay? Have a chance for raises, advancement, more responsibility? How about fringe benefits?

Is the work challenging? I had what it takes to get through high school. Will they give me a chance to use my brains?

Note: Many young men and women in this area can answer "Yes" to these questions. They work for New England Telephone.

Why not talk with our employment interviewer soon . . . before you graduate? Ask your Guidance Counselor to tell you when and where to apply.

A D I E U

The time has come to say good bye,
For now we leave,
No more to tread
Our familiar, favorite haunts,
Where scenes as precious
As myriad pearls
Glitter in our Today,
But where in our Tomorrow,
Only memories will exist.

We leave our halls and classes,
Where friends as dear
As scintillating diamonds
Stud the way,
To venture upon the dusty, pit-pocked
Roads of Life,
To trudge, to sweat, to work,
To rise or fall in our right
In this exacting World of Reality.

And we shall go
Upon Life's Roads
To the very ends of the Earth;
Yet if no more we chance to meet,
If no more we work and laugh together,
Then, remember the best wishes
Of your distant classmates
Guide you on your perilous way.

The time has come to say adieu;
The sands of youth have slipped away
And, emerged, we are the men and the women
Of this chaotic World;
May we with Guidance Divine
And sweat and blood sincere
Succeed in righting our Vacillating sphere.

But we must leave;
The World is beckoning with its forlorn finger:
May we succeed with glory
In our undertakings
May we succeed where others have failed
May we triumph in the name of Humanity
May our strokes be telling blows
Smashing upward to success.

Adieu, Classmates of '68
Goodbye to mutual memories of many years;
For the time has come,
We dare not linger longer
For fear we miss our chance
And fall by the wayside.
Farewell, Classmates
Adieu . . . and Good Luck.

We, the Editors of the 1968 Tontoquonian, sincerely wish to thank Mr. Bill Rowan of the L. G. Balfour Co. for his valued and much appreciated assistance in the preparation of this book, Mr. Guy Quartronc and Mr. Peter Aiello, our photographers, Stephen Carlson, our staffs, and last, but certainly not least, Miss Helen Towle for her patience. Finally, we hope this book will bring as much joy and happy memories to you as you thumb through the pages, as it has brought us in presenting it to you.

This is SAUGUS.

Originally the early colonial community of the Plymouth County, it was called "Hammer-smith." It was later changed to SAUGUS and became known as the birthplace of American ironmaking.

SAUGUS is a town with a fine heritage. Great quantities of jasper were mined by the Sachem Indians and traded to surrounding tribes for objects of a greater value. It was SAUGUS who supplied surrounding towns with fresh spring water. The Tudor family packed ice on Lily Pond in straw and shipped it to the West Indies as a new and different commodity.

Now, SAUGUS looks to the future; for as a town growing rapidly in both population and industry, it is becoming a major North Shore community.
